Special News and Announcements

Cisco Press eBooks Coming Soon

Take your Cisco Press library on the road with electronic versions of select Cisco Press titles. You'll be able to search the entire PDF and print just the information needed. Linked indexes and bookmarked tables of contents provide easy access to particular sections of the book.

Whether you're learning a new technology or troubleshooting a problem, information is at your fingertips anytime, anywhere you need it.

Watch ciscopress.com for more information about eBooks.

Featured Group: Silicon Valley Cisco Users Group (SVCUG)

This California-based group serves the needs of users in the San Jose / San Francisco Bay area.

Holidays and weather permitting, this group provides three events a month: one monthly meeting and two Saturday hands-on labs. The monthly meeting features a Cisco professional delivering a technical presentation. The Saturday labs provide SVCUG members access to Cisco equipment.

The group is intended to help bring people interested in learning about Cisco products and technologies together and to help facilitate their growth and advancement in emerging and existing technologies.

Cisco Press will be presenting at the March 8 monthly meeting, announcing plans for a new CCNA Video Instruction Pack product.

Visit www.svcug.net to learn more.

Safari Books Online Launches New Rough Cuts Service

Readers Get Early Access to Works-in-Progress Before Books are Published

Readers now have the opportunity to get an exclusive sneak peak into the latest books covering new technologies with Safari's Rough Cuts service. Launched by Safari® Books Online, LLC, a joint venture between technology publishers Pearson Technology Group and O'Reilly Media, Inc. the beta version of the new Rough Cuts service gives readers online access to works-in-progress, before they're published as print books.

Readers who buy a Rough Cuts title get immediate access to an evolving manuscript and can read the book online or download and print a PDF version.
